About Me

I am a recent Ph.D graduate from the Computer Science Department at the University of California, Santa Barbara, and a member of the NLP Group, co-advised by William Yang Wang and Xifeng Yan.

The primary research focus of my PhD has been applying ML methods to NLP to improve data efficiency and model performance. In my research I have explored the use of methods including multi-armed bandits, data selection, multitask learning, transfer learning, reinforcement learning, and neuro-symbolic methods. Additionally, I have a wide array of interests in other topics including model efficiency, logic and reasoning, conversational AI, information retrieval, and multilingual models.

In the future, I am most interested in 2 main directions of work. First, I would like to continue my pursuit of data-centric research by understanding models from a data perspective, developing methods that improve data quality, and improving data efficiency. I am also very excited to apply my data-centric background to many areas of ML research, including model pretraining, alignment, fine-tuning, tool use, and neuro-symbolic systems.

Education

- 2018–2024 Ph.D, Computer Science, University of California, Santa Barbara.
UCSB NLP Group
Dissertation: Understanding and Improving Language Models Through a Data-Centric Lens
Advisors: William Yang Wang and Xifeng Yan
- 2016–2018 B.S., Mathematics, Wayne State University.

Selected Publications (Full publication list)

- 2024 DataComp-LM: In search of the next generation of training sets for language models.

Selected Projects

- February 2021 – present Recommender Dialogue Systems, in collaboration with UCSC, USC, Google.
- o Actively collaborating with researchers across institutions to solve problems in dialogue systems such as explainability, information extraction, and zero- or few-shot dialogue classification tasks
  - o Resulting Publications: FLAD, FETA, NeuPSL, D-REX
- Advisors : Industry - William W. Cohen and Tania Bedrax-Weiss
Academic - William Yang Wang (UCSB), Lise Getoor (UCSC), and Jay Pujara (USC)

June 2021 – Alexa Prize Taskbot Challenge, Team Lead.

- June 2022
  - o 8% acceptance rate
  - o Led and advised UCSB's "Team GauchoBot" in developing an agent that assists real Alexa customers to complete cooking and do-it-yourself projects that require multiple steps and complex decision making
  - o Designed algorithms for intent classification and question answering as well as the communication architecture between modules
  - o Resulting Publication: Making Something out of Nothing

May 2021 – COVID(ATAck), in collaboration with IARPA and Peraton Labs.

- October 2021
  - o Mentored a visiting undergraduate researcher
  - o Built a multilingual open-retrieval question answering system for COVID-related journal articles and a clinical trials database
  - o Designed and implemented:
    - a multilingual deep semantic indexing method to retrieve relevant documents
    - a multilingual reading comprehension system to find answers within a document
  - o Resulting Publication: Paper/code

Professional Experience

April 2024 – Member of Technical Staff, SynthLabs.

- present
  - o Directed the internal research agenda on synthetic data generation, data filtering, and reward models
  - o Developed and lead open-science collaborations with the broader research community

June 2022 – Research Science Intern, Meta AI.

- September 2022
  - o Directed and executed on 2 projects in collaboration with researchers across the company
  - o Explored data-efficiency through the use of multi-task learning and various prompting methods for small language models
  - o Explored the use of parameter-efficient methods for zero-shot generalization
  - o Resulting Publications: Data-Efficiency with a Single GPU

June 2019 – Research Associate, Theta Lake.

- September 2020
  - o Built classifiers for automated risk detection in regulated industries through the use of natural language processing and other machine learning techniques
  - o Took multiple projects from inception to production, and developed 2 patent pending methods along the way
  - o Resulting Patent: US Patent 11914963

Fellowships & Awards

2023 Neurips Scholar Award, 37th Conference on Neural Information Processing Systems.

2018 Integrative Graduate Education and Research Traineeship (IGERT) Fellow, University of California, Santa Barbara.

2018 Academic Excellence Fellowship, University of California, Santa Barbara.

2018 Chia Kuei Tsao Award, Wayne State University.

For outstanding academic achievement in the undergraduate mathematics program

Service & Outreach

ACL 2023-24 Workshop Organizer - NLP For Conversational AI (NLP4ConvAI)

ACL 2023 Social Organizer - Mindfulness meditation in a time of NLP hyperactivity

NeurIPS 2022 Workshop Organizer - Transfer Learning for NLP (TL4NLP): Insights and Advances on Positive and Negative Transfer. Proceedings.

2022-2024 Program Committee: ACL, NAACL, EMNLP, AAAI

Technical skills

Tools Python, C++, Shell, AWS, Azure

Packages PyTorch, TensorFlow, HuggingFace, NumPy, SciPy

Machine Learning   Natural language processing (NLP), computer vision (CV), transformers, generative AI, statistical analysis, regression, clustering
